Independence.

"We are not fighting for slavery, but for independence," is the word that comes to us from Dixie. After having made a long and futile effort, by force of arms, to found a nationality upon the basis of slavery; despoiled every portion of the South of its wealth and beauty, and lost the flower of Southern youth on battle fields, we hear that they are fighting for "independence." They cannot be freer than they were before the war, at least, the aristocracy cannot. They had means in abundance—had wealth to squander, and they squandered it profusely. It was their custom to sell their crops to the North for cash, and then purchase their supplies at the North on credit, and anticipate their next year's crop for the payment. To-day they owe the North not less than two hundred millions of dollars for goods purchased before the war, so that they effectually practiced repudiation with secession, for probably not a dollar of these millions will be paid. It is such a class as this that clamor for "independence," and is forcing the common people of every Southern State into the ranks to be officered by these candidates for an independence that shall extend only to themselves. The poor whites South cannot compare in position with the factory hands of New England—with the laboring man anywhere in any free State. They have no chance for education, no opportunity to acquire property, much less to acquire position. These poor whites are ignorant of the very conflict in which they fight, and are conscripted and driven to the armies as sheep are driven to the shambles.

This is a war of castes in which an aristocracy is striving to perpetuate its power; but the common class of the southern people are not heart and soul in the war, or the complaint would not be made that deserters outnumber the men in arms. That these poor whites hate us is true, but their hate is founded on ignorance alone, and not on wrong. In less than a generation from now, southern lands and fields will be peopled and harvested by freemen, and the sons of these poor whites of to-day will realize in the blessings of enlightened freedom, the miserable character of the independence they fight for to-day.

General Sheridan.—From the Portland correspondence of the S. F. Bulletin we copy the following:

Major-General Phil. Sheridan, who is just now "a bright particular star," in the military firmament, was stationed at Fort Yamhill, in Oregon, about 60 miles south of this, for four or five years before the commencement of the present war. He served here during the Indian war of 1855–'56, and being eminently social and "disposed to know folk," he can be regarded as somewhat of an Oregonian. He still owns a farm in Yamhill county and it is said dreams of returning to it, "when this cruel war is over," and becoming an honest farmer. But Major-Generals turned farmers, were never very plenty. Cincinnatus is said to have done something of that kind once, but his conduct has been more commended than followed. Sheridan's old neighbors in Yamhill are said to be engaged in making up a subscription to purchase him the finest Black Hawk horse in Oregon, as a testimony of their regard and approbation. The sum needful is just being raised, and the horse when purchased will be forwarded to Sheridan's command. Now when the "Pony" goes through San Francisco, don't you Californians announce to the Eastern world, "that a fine saddle horse was this day shipped from California as a present to General Sheridan." This is the first attempt Oregon has ever made to appropriate to herself any of the successful Generals of this war, although she wintered and summered a good many of them, and to be newspapered out of this would be provoking.

I knew Sheridan, when here, very well, and have been amused at the accounts of him that have been going the rounds of the press since his success in the Shenandoah valley. The Army Register shows that he was born in Massachusetts and appointed to West Point from Ohio. On July 1, 1853, he was made Brevet Second Lieutenant of the 1st Infantry. On the 14th of May, 1861, he was made a Captain in the 13th Infantry, and on the 31st of December, 1862, a Major-General of Volunteers. I think I learned from him that his parents were from Ireland, but be that as it may, his name is pretty conclusive evidence that his family tree had its root in the "ould soil." Although bred a soldier, he is a man of opinions on public affairs; has politics, or used to have. In 1860, he supported Breckinridge for President; that is, he was for him, but had no vote, being absent from home. When in Oregon he was fond of a horse, a dog, and a gun, and by no means averse to a social glass and a long rubber at whist. In stature, he is small, quite small, but has rather a large head and shoulders. There is nothing remarkable about his physiognomy, unless it be his eye. That is large, prominent, (a little popped,) handsome and expressive. He is a noble, generous fellow, and among the people of Oregon, who knew him, every one is pleased at his success and promotion. In early life his parents emigrated to Ohio, and settled at Somerset, Perry county, where Sheridan lived and grew up, until he went to West Point.

Moral Effects.—The California Christian Advocate has an editorial on the "Moral Effects of the War on the Soldiers of the Army," from which we extract the following:

The tide of war has rolled on four years, and the religious patriots of the nation are gladdened by a spectacle never before presented to the world. An army of 600,000 growing in moral and religious character, in the camp, in garrison, in the trenches, and wherever the demands of patriotism call them. An overwhelming proof that God is with our soldiers and that he goes out with our hosts to battle for freedom and justice.

This has been the special work of the Christian Commission.

How the Rebels Figure.—During Sherman's march, we heard from rebel sources, that 1,300 Federal troops found dead and wounded were "picked up" on a single battle field. Sherman reports that his loss in killed and wounded on the whole march was but 350 or 400, while he "picked up" thousands of prisoners, 30 guns, and tens of thousands of mules, niggers and cattle.

Good Appointment.—We learn from Governor Gibbs that he has appointed Henry Catley, Esq., of Fort Dalles, to be the Regimental Quartermaster for the First Oregon Infantry now raising. This is the "right man in the right place," we are confident. No better appointment could be made.

Eugene not Afloat.—The operator at Salem says he has received no such dispatch concerning the flood at Eugene City as we published the other day, though the same report was circulated at Salem, but probably without any foundation.

Gen. D. D. Colton's famous horse Fleet, valued at $4,000, died recently at Bay View Park, San Francisco.

Letter from Canyon City.

Canyon City, Dec. 12, 1864.

Editor Oregonian:

Some time has elapsed since my letter from Canyon City to your paper, and there is reason to believe that I should neglect you still longer but for the fact that winter has come with its pinching frosts and its icy breath, and effected a "stay of proceedings," as the lawyers would say, in all our mining operations. Thus cut off from business, and cut off by distance and snowy mountains from the society of those friends with whom he used to gather around the bright blazing fire in the long December evenings, the "honest miner" is ready to engage in almost any harmless enterprise that promises to "kill time"—that is, keep it alive. To this unfortunate class, your correspondent, as you are aware belongs; and it is only the extremest pains of ennui that have now brought him to a sense of his duty and caused to "seize again the long forsaken quill" and renew his correspondence. If there is any one thing in the world more disagreeable than all other things to a man who has been accustomed in his better days, to enjoy the amenities of civilized life and the refinements of a quiet home, that most disagreeable thing is to be shut up in a mining camp with a thousand—more or less—of human beings as miserable as himself—snow on the ground around him and more of it in the clouds above him—ice in the ditch that supplies him water, ice in his sluice boxes, ice all over his pump wheel, ice in the creek that has hitherto served in the capacity of a tail-race—everything except the whisky in his flask and the blood in his main arteries frozen up as tightly as if he were at anchor a little to the north-west of Greenland, where Dr. Kane's dogs went crazy, and he, poor man, "caught his death o' cold." Such a place has Canyon City been for some days; and even now, while I write, old Boreas howls past my window as if his appetite for human misery were not yet sated. But I do not despair of ever seeing warm weather and busy times again. Things must change in the course of time, and my prediction is, that before this communication shall be read in the Morning Oregonian, there will be a thaw and a general breaking up—and, being one of those oracular personages, an "oldest inhabitant," I think I ought to know. Since the first settlement of this region by the whites, such weather as this has not been so early in the season. Up to the time of the freeze, the mines continued to yield large returns, and new discoveries were frequent. From all appearances, it is fair to say that this district is yet comparatively in its infancy as a mining region. The returns of next year will place Canyon City higher in rank, as a mining camp, than it has ever stood.

THE NEW COUNTY

Has been organized and its machinery is in motion. Administrators are being appointed to look after the estates of dead men, and Equity Receivers to look after those of the living. Writs of habeas corpus are being issued to get old culprits out of prison, and writs of commitment to get new ones in. Marriages are solemnized and divorce suits instituted, without any reference whatever to the existence of Wasco county. Grant county is responding cheerfully to the demand made upon her for soldiers to fill up the regiment of Infantry called for by the Governor of the State. Her quota, under the apportionment made by the Provost Marshal, is sixty men. Capt. Borland opened a recruiting office here some two or three weeks ago, and I am reliably informed that he has already enlisted thirty-six brave fellows, who have gone to the Dalles, that being the recruiting depot for this district. So that Grant county has only twenty-four men to raise, and that number can be obtained in a few days more, if enlistments continue as active as at present.

The county court last week made the following appointments to fill the offices of the county not provided for by the organic act of the Legislature: For Treasurer, M. H. Adams; for Surveyor, Josephus Tompkins; for Superintendent of Schools, D. B. Rhinehardt; Coroner, Dr. Bell.

THE SNAKE INDIANS

Have been committing depredations again. A short time since Mr. Fred Adams, while on his way to Canyon City with his family, had his mules and horses stolen by Indians near Alkali Flat. He pursued the thieves about fifteen miles and recovered most of them. The Indians fled across the mountains to the west in the direction of John Day River. It is supposed that they belong to a small band that has been during the last summer concealed in the mountains near the junction of the northern and middle forks of the river. It is said that the band is now encamped on Eureka prairie on the north fork, but I presume this, though probably true, is founded upon mere conjecture.

THE ARRIVAL OF THE STAGE,

Yesterday evening, created more excitement here than the arrival of the Japanese Embassy did in Washington; and was no doubt a matter of quite as much real importance to the people of this isolated portion of God's foot stool, as the visit of those intelligent Mongolians was to the Yankee Nation at large. The stage had been due for some days, and fears were entertained that it would be found impossible to pass the mountains, on account of the snow. And besides the general interest felt by all in the keeping communication open with the Dalles and the Web-foot Nation, most of us were anxiously awaiting news from some particular interest below pertaining to some scheme of vast personal interest—perhaps of making money; perhaps of making love. So when the stage did finally make its appearance at the door of the Postoffice, the crowd gathered around so large and so dense that one not posted in the matter would most likely have concluded that the building was a "Cheap John" auction house and that some article was about to be offered for sale, which "everybody wanted and nobody could do without"—which "the young women r-r-rush after and the children cr-r-ry for." Your correspondent rushed furiously into the crowd, and then rushed out again, just as nine-tenths of the rest did, with "nary letter."

A PROMISCUOUS SERENADE

Came off a few evenings since which deserves a passing notice. A marriage in high life had transpired the previous evening, and some of the gay and festive sort of folks who relish a bit of out-door sport now and then—especially if seasoned with the martial music of tin pans and horse fiddles celebrated the happy event with all due pomp and ceremony. I could not tell you all the instruments they used to make music on the occasion, and it would be a far more difficult task to tell what ones they did not use. The orgies began early in the evening, with as much noise as could be crowded into the canyon at once, and grew louder and fiercer. The closing ceremony was a free fight in which all participated with a zest which was pleasing to beholders as it was satisfactory to the belligerents themselves. I presume there were sundry cases of assault and battery disposed of during the next day, but as I have a holy horror for law suits, I forbore inquiry on that subject.

A LITTLE MORE GOSSIP

About the body social of this city may be amusing to any person who contemplates coming hither when the winter is over—and I am sure there are many such. Unlike most mining camps we have quite a large number of ladies here, and many of them are educated and refined ladies, too—"learned and pious as the Muses," and would, no doubt, make far better wives, those of them who are not already better ones, than the Muses would. We have singing schools and church services; we have also a day school at which a goodly number, to-wit: about thirty congregate daily to have the young idea taught how to shoot. Money has been made up to procure a Sunday School library and Sunday School papers, and it is thought that a good institution of that character can be sustained here. I must confess that I do not know much about such matters, and hence must speak from hearsay. As for amusement for the more liberal and less circumspect sort, we have no lack of that: with four hurdy-gurdy houses, paying a monthly license of $100 each, and about seven times as many drinking houses, and numerous billiard saloons and bowling alleys, no man need suffer for want of a place to while away his time and throw away his money.

But I have already spun out this letter to undue length. Let me close by promising not to be so tedious another time.

RAFFAELLE.

Soldiers of Fortune.—Many of the Poles engaged in the late revolution intend to take service under the new Emperor of Mexico. The Austrian authorities give every encouragement to the scheme, and the central depot for the final incorporation of the soldiers into the Mexican army is fixed at Laybach. This probably gave rise to the story telegraphed some time ago, that a legion of Polanders were about to join the Confederate service.

On Good Terms with the Enemy.—Before Gen. Meade issued an order forbidding communicating with the enemy, the soldiers had become quite sociable. A New York Tribune letter says:

The men on both sides have been holding intercourse with each other for interchange of newspapers and the barter of coffee and tobacco. In this way a great deal of mischief was likely to result, as information of vital importance is always apt to leak out. The opposing lines of rifle-pits, it must be borne in mind, are not a hundred yards apart—in some parts of the line considerably closer.

Adventurous spirits on both sides cautiously raise their heads above the earthworks. "How are you, Johnny?"—"How are you, Yank?"—are questions quite usually bandied. "Won't you shoot?" says one, "No," says the other. "Well, we won't," chime in all, and immediately the parapets are swarmed with men who have been concealed and protected by them. Out jump the fellows from the rifle-pits, and putting down their guns, stretch their cramped forms upon the grass. Sharp shooters covertly slide down from their perches in the trees and loll about in utter abandon. Trade is quickly opened, and all sorts of commodities are exchanged.

The men have keen pleasure in their singular armistice, bantering each other sharply, and never over-stepping the half-way line which separates their respective fortifications.

Suddenly the cry is raised—"Run back, Johnnies," or "Run back, Yanks," just as it happened to be; "we are going to shoot," and the hostilities begin again. It is always understood, however, that the first shot shall be aimed high, and the veriest dawdler gets back to shelter safely. While this fraternal scene is being enacted on one limited part of the line, the battle rages hotly at other portions of the extended front, which measures by miles. Was ever such strange warfare known before?

Why the Valley was Claimed.—Those who take exception to the severe military measures adopted in the Shenandoah Valley, will find occasion to reconsider their opinions, if they reason like the old campaigner with Sheridan, who, according to a war correspondent, thus stated the case:

I asked them about Sheridan's order to clear the Valley. "Well" said one, "I tell you 'tis pretty hard. We got orders to clean out a section. The Captain, he picks his men," (there they all grinned,) "he knows pretty well who to take, and then we get orders to burn every barn, every stack of grain, everything except the houses, and then we started the people. We go out in squads of ten or a dozen, and the way we ride is a caution. You see the most of 'em's secesh families; the women are Union—to a man," winked he, "and their husbands, and brothers, and sons, in with the rebs; but for all that it's hard when the women comes out on their knees, crying and praying and the children clinging to 'em."

"But" said he "it's a good deal harder to go along a road, and right along by the side of the woods, to find your own brother hanging to a tree, with his ears, his nose and his lips cut off, as I did mine last week! These devils," said he, "if they'd only come out in clear day and fight us as we do them, and not murder us, they never would have had their country cleaned out as we have been forced to do."

The Political Institutions of Europe and America Contrasted.—Recently, Prof. Agassiz was complimented with a call by a Union torchlight procession in Boston, and made the following speech:

My Friends: After staying 18 years in this country, I have repeatedly asked myself what was the difference between the institutions of the Old World and those of America; and I have found the answer in a few words. In Europe everything is done to preserve and maintain the prerogative of the few; in America everything is done to make a man of him who has any of the elements of manhood in him. Now, gentlemen, the fate of these institutions is in your hands. On Tuesday next you will decide whether they are to be perpetuated forever, to help Europe throw off tyranny and reform its illiberal institutions, and to bring them up to the standpoint of our liberal institutions. To do that, believe me, there is only one way—hold on to those who have defended these institutions manfully, re-elect those who have repelled the assaults of armed foes against them, and those who have defended your rights in Congress and you will conquer.

Good for Rosy.—Gen. Rosecrans, who probably understands the present condition of affairs as well as any man in the army, says: "Whenever they (the rebels) have the power, they drive before them into their ranks the Southern people as they would also drive us. Trust them not. Were they able they would invade and destroy us without mercy. Absolutely assured of these things I am amazed that any one could think of 'peace on any terms.' He who entertains the sentiment is fit only to be a slave; he who utters it at this time is, moreover, a traitor to his country, who deserves the scorn and contempt of all honorable men."

At one time during the pursuit of Early, Sheridan's forces bivouacked for the night within a short distance of the rebels. During the night the enemy's rear guard withdrew, leaving pinned to a tree the following note:

Mr. Yank: For God's sake stop and let your horses graze, and allow us poor, starved devils to get away, and we'll treat the next time we meet at Strasburg.

CITY OF PARIS STORE,

Making less than two-fifths of the real amount said Mayer was to pay. He had secured the building at very advantageous rates, and even were he now to comply with his contract, and pay in COIN, would be getting the best bargain in the city. MEETING OF THE COMMON COUNCIL.—The regular weekly meeting of the Common Council was held at the Council Chamber at seven o'clock last evening.

Mayor Failing occupied the Chair.

The following members were present—Councilmen Bennett, Cook, Frazar, Gratton, Hoffman, McCraken. Absent—Messrs Robertson and Starr.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the Clerk and approved by the Council.

A Communication was received from W. W. Chapman, Esq., Attorney for owners of the fractional block No. [illegible] in relation to some misunderstanding of the location of Front street, and asking the attention of the Council to the matter. In order that the subject might be incorporated with other matters of street surveys, the communication was laid upon the table.

A communication was received from Mr. T. J. Northrup, declining the position of Councilman for the Third Ward in consequence of absence from the city, which was accepted.

A communication from Mr. T. G. Young, Foreman of Columbian Engine Company No. [illegible], stating that the Company had paid out of their private funds several hundred dollars in the completion of their new house, and giving an estimate of expenses to be incurred in fitting up, etc., and asking for an appropriation to enable them to receive fixtures, was referred to the proper committee.

Mr. C[illegible], Chairman of the committee on fire and water, submitted an estimate of $14,000 for the expenses of the Fire Department for the ensuing year, which is to include the building of four and the reconstruction of ten reservoirs, the purchase of the Engine by the city at present used by Company No. [illegible] and the contemplated improvements to the house of Company No. 2. The communication was ordered to be placed on file, for use of the committee on ways and means.

Mr. McCraken submitted an ordinance in relation to assessments, which was passed under a suspension of the rules, and ordered to be published in the OREGONIAN.

By resolution street lamps were ordered at the corner of Oak and Fifth, near the Jewish Synagogue, and at the corner of Second and Morrison streets.

On motion of Mr. Frazar the committee on ways and means were instructed to report an ordinance appropriating money to pay off the present indebtedness of the city, and that the Auditor be required to furnish a schedule of all claims outstanding against the city, to report at the next regular meeting of the Council.

On motion of Mr. Frazar the Council went into an election for a member from the Third Ward, which resulted in the selection of S. M. Gilman, Esq., on the first ballot.

On motion Council adjourned.

STREET ASSAULT.—On Wednesday evening, on Morrison street, near Front, a man named James Cookely struck a man named Cook with a pistol, whereupon Cookely was arrested by Officer Townsend and lodged in jail to await the filing of a complaint and an examination of the affair. A complaint was made and filed by Cook, charging Cookely with violating an ordinance of the city, he not feeling disposed to prefer a State charge. The defendant, upon being arraigned, plead guilty and was fined $20 and costs, which he paid and was discharged. The officers, upon an investigation of the matter, ascertained that the evidence did not warrant a charge for a State offense.

WATER, AND YET NO WATER.—It is our misfortune, we suppose, to domicil near the southern boundry of this city, and while we are in a pleasant locality during the summer months, where we can obtain the finest views of the rich scenery surrounding us on every hand, the winter months cut us entirely off; the approaches to our domicil are insupportable, and the only mellow influences brought to bear for alleviation of the circumstances is sorely repugnant to our senses, and consist of mud! so soft, so pliable, that the regular round of the wagoner's cart before our door sinks its tire beneath the surface of terra firma, and it has cut off our supply of water from that saving institution the Portland Water Company. Now isn't it horrible! Lookalitems is not the only tenant paying just dues as fast as possible and living in hope, for better streets, some day.

COMPANY D.—This company, which has been recruited in this city by Capt. W. S. Powell, will be mustered into the service of the United States to-day by Lieut. Kapus, Mustering and Disbursing officer, after which the entire company will proceed at once to Fort Vancouver, there to await orders for active service. The recruiting of this company has been attended with considerable difficulty, and it but an act of justice to Capt. Powell to say that it is mainly owing to his untiring exertions that the requisite number of men have been raised thus soon. We understand that the recruits have had daily exercise in the Manuel of Arms, and that many of them are already quite proficient.

FINE WEATHER.—Yesterday the sun shone upon our begrimed walks in all its divine effulgence, and its poetic license was enjoyed by mankind, the feminine included, to a greater extent than has been exercised in Portland for very many weeks previous. Really the city was astir with connoisseurs active in the selection of goods fitting to a holiday season, and should the favorable days continue until the beginning of the New Year, to adopt an old but somewhat popular superstition, 1865 will be a busy and a bright year with us. "So mote it be."

ACCIDENT AT THE FALLS.—The Willamette has raised so rapidly lately that the warehouses of the P. T. Company at Canemah have been inundated. In emptying the buildings of their contents the mules and cars of the portage were kept running day and night, and on Wednesday night a mule and car was swept from the track by the branches of a drifting tree, and lost in the floods. The driver barely escaped by jumping in time to save himself. The accident occurred about midway between Oregon City and Canemah.

MILITARY.—The Yamhill and Washington counties' Company, ninety strong, with Ephraim Palmer as Captain, Cyrus W. Walker as First Lieutenant, and John W. Cullen as Second Lieutenant, were mustered into the service of the United States at Salem on the 26th inst., by Lieut. Wm. Kapus, United States Mustering and Disbursing Officer, as Company B, 1st Oregon Infantry. The Linn county Company is now full and ready for muster. Lane county has nearly 70 men enlisted.

STEAMBOAT ACCIDENT.—In making the run to Oregon City yesterday the steamer Senator had one of her rudders carried away, and several buckets of her wheel broken, by coming in contact with drift wood, which appears to be increasing in great quantities in the river. It is a wonder that more fatal accidents do not occur under such circumstances, at the present time.

FROM THE DALLES.—The steamer Wilson G. Hunt arrived from the Cascades last evening at her usual time, bringing passengers and Express from the Dalles. The indications seem to favor the opening of navigation to Wallula within a few days, as the "Chinook winds" appear to be doing their work.

NEW VOLUNTEERS.—Company C, 1st Oregon Infantry, were mustered at Salem, on the 27th inst., and passed through this city yesterday on their way to Fort Vancouver. This company consists of 87 mustered men, raised in Marion county, and is officered as follows: Captain, Clark P. Crandall; First Lieutenant, Thomas Reynolds; Second Lieutenant, Charles B. Rowland.

HARD PICKING.—A squad of delectable siwashes make a business of picking up the waste vegetables, etc., thrown out from the grocery and provision stores of the city, which really looks like hard fare, and it can in no way be other than choice with themselves, if they are pleased to turn their backs upon the comforts and [illegible] given them by government at the several reservations.

WILLAMETTE THEATRE.—To-night the romantic drama of "The Lady of the Lake," taken from Sir Walter Scott's well known poem, will be produced at Willamette Theatre. Mrs. Julia Dean Hayne as Blanche of Devan, Mrs. Getzler as Ellen, Miss Douglas as Lady Margaret, and Mr. Waldron as Roderick Dhu.

A Word to the Aged.—In the decline of life the loss of vital force consequent upon physical decay can only be supplied by some vivifying preparation which recruits the strength and spirits without entailing the exhaustion which is always the final effect of ordinary stimulants. We tender to the aged DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. As an invigorant and restorative, [illegible] and permanent in its effect. It [illegible] the stomach, improves the appetite [illegible] on the spirits. For dyspepsia, oppression after eating, bilious colic, wind cholic, [illegible] nervous headache, Chills and Fever, [illegible] and all the complaints special to the feebler sex, the Bitters are earnestly recommended [illegible] witnessed the superior efficacy in such cases. [illegible] all Druggists and dealers everywhere.

Le Doyen's Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock AND IODINE ALTERATIVE is the only remedy for invigorating a debilitated and broken down constitution.—Persons of scrofulous habit suffering from impure blood, nervous trembling, impaired digestion, liver disease, [illegible] should give this great blood purifier a trial. All rheumatic diseases, constitutional complaints [illegible] affections are radically cured by a steady use of them [illegible] oc19 3m

"A Slight Cold," Coughs.—Few are aware of the importance of Checking a Cough or slight cold in its first stage, that which in the beginning would yield to a mild remedy, if neglected, soon attacks the lungs. Brown's Bronchial Troches gives sure and almost immediate relief. Military Officers and Soldiers should have them, as they can be carried in the pocket and taken as occasion requires.

ANCESTRY OF AN ARISTOCRAT.—A correspondent of the N. Y. Evening Post thus refers to Slidell's antecedents and ancestry:

Recently in Paris [illegible] John Slidell on [illegible] it was that such extreme hatred [illegible] feeling were manifested on all [illegible] Southerners toward the Northern [illegible] the latter never exhibited any such [illegible] in his usual bombastic manner [illegible] was very simple [illegible] the aristocracy of [illegible] Northerners were nothing but [illegible] peddlers. Now, [illegible] that this John Slidell [illegible] exemplar [illegible] for a [illegible] with [illegible] Slidell and Price after [illegible] that his life would be spared provided only that he [illegible] career at New Orleans political and [illegible] does not seem to have been such as to have created a very general impression that he was either a very high minded or a very honest man. In Trinity churchyard in this city [illegible] to the memory of "Joshua Slidell a native of England, tallow chandler," grandfather of John Slidell, aristocrat. In old days, the late W. T. Robinson, of the firm of Franklin, Robinson & Co., had apprenticed [illegible] two emigrant Scotch girls—Debby and Margery McKenzie—both of whom were married out of his kitchen—Debby to John Slidell, journeyman soapboiler, father of John Slidell, aristocrat, and Margery to Thomas Bolton, journeyman shoemaker, and their employer, as an acknowledgement of their good conduct, cancelled their articles on the occasion. Too respectable parentage for a renegade and a traitor.

A WARLIKE WORLD.—The Opinion Nationale of a recent date, gives this dismal picture of the recent belligerent condition of the world:

If there be a dead calm in politics as well as business among us, it is not the same in all parts of the little planet we inhabit. Three quarters of humanity, in fact, are living in the barbarous state of war. There is war in Poland, war in Algeria, war in Tunis, war in Mexico, war in the United States, war in Peru, war in New Zealand, war in China and Kashgar, war in Japan, war in Afghanistan, war in twenty countries in Africa. This is, unfortunately, enough to discourage the friends of universal peace, and who can say they will not meet with still greater disappointment next year? Italy, Hungary, Poland, Denmark, and the Slavonian population of Turkey, are not, it must be confessed, in the most pacific humor; and those who study the general situation, instead of getting better goes on from day to day getting more and more complicated.

The manner of advertising for a husband in Java is by placing an empty flower pot on the portico roof, which is as much as to say, "A young lady is in the house. Husband wanted."

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS.

THE OPERATION OF THIS PALATABLE REMEDY upon the stomach, liver and excretory organs is singularly soothing and conservative. It regulates, recruits and purifies them. Dyspepsia in all its forms yields to its control and invigorating properties.

Invigorate the System.

Vigorous digestion and pure bile produce nutritious blood, and nutritious blood a healthy frame. Does the victim of a dyspeptic stomach and a disordered liver desire to know how the digestion may be improved, the bile and other fluids of the body purified?

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters

Will accomplish this desirable revolution in the system, regulating the secretions and excretions, giving tone to the animal juices which dissolve the food, strengthen every relaxed nerve, muscle and fibre and bring the whole machinery of vitality into vigorous and healthful play.

Strengthen the System.

The best means of imparting vigor to the broken down frame and shattered constitution, which has yet been invented or discovered, is proffered to the feeble of both sexes and all ages in

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

Debility, from whatever cause arising, may be cured, strength, in whatever manner it may have been wasted, may be restored by the use of this powerful and healthy invigorant. For indigestion and all its painful effects, bodily and mental, they are a positive specific.

A Word to the Aged!

In the decline of life, the loss of vital force consequent upon physical decay, can only be safely supplied by some vivifying preparation which recruits the strength and spirits, without entailing the exhaustion which is always the final effect of ordinary stimulants. We tender to the aged

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

As an invigorant and restorative, immediate in its beneficial action and permanent in its effects. It tones the stomach, improves the appetite, and acts like a charm upon the spirits.

For Females:

Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart, nervous headache, vertigo, general debility, and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which, as a sex, they are subject. It cheers and enlivens the depressed mental powers as well as strengthens the body, and its use is never followed by any reaction.

S. T.—1860.—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try them.

They are recommended by the highest medical authorities, and are warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure and harmless.

NOTICE.—Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters in bulk or by the gallon is a swindler and impostor. It is put up only in our patent log cabin bottle. Beware of bottles refilled with imitation deleterious stuff, for which several persons are already in prison. See that every bottle has our private United States stamp over the cork unmutilated, and signature on steel plate side label.

Sold by respectable dealers throughout the habitable globe.

THE ASTONISHING SUCCESS WHICH HAS ATtended this invaluable medicine renders it the most valuable one ever discovered. In fact, it stands unrivalled as a remedy for the permanent cure of the maladies above mentioned, and also—

For these diseases it is truly a sovereign remedy, and too much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms. TRY IT in these cases. It will give relief to the
